

Interview

- Do you have girl(s) or boy(s)?
boy (10)
- At which age were/are they allowed to use any electronic devices?
Which ones wouldn't you allow?
no electronics
10: switch,
nintendo, smartphone (for music only), parents phone for games (on WIFI at home)
Why? kids didn't want before or were to young
- What do your kids usually ask for / want you to buy?
sweets (spends a lot on it - but not one day - small amounts regularly), toys, ...
- Do your kids go out to buy stuff or do they order online and how often?
online: with parents accounts (presents - birthday, xmas)
- How much money can they spend in total?
20€ / months parents
5€ grandma
occasional gifts from parents (game)
- What's the highest amount they are allowed to spend on own decision?
he has pocket money but still has to ask
- Who decides on price, what to buy, when, how often?
mum decides,
restrictions: which games, age conform some exceptions (game for 12 with 10 but minimum time)
because not good for them
no if no more pocket money, nothing expensive
- Do you trust your kids to handle money or would are prefer an alternative from them to "pay"?
real money - no doubts, no thoughts about it

INTERVIEW

- Do you have girl(s) or boy(s)?
2, 9 - 7
- At which age were/are they allowed to use any electronic devices?
yes, smartphones, PS (restricted time)
- Which ones wouldn't you allow?
N/A
- What do your kids usually ask for / want you to buy?
toys
- What they get:
can buy with money
- Do your kids go out to buy stuff or do they order online and how often?
in shop, online only for digital goods with parents
- What can't they buy?
no digital goods on their own, with 10 y some "smaller priced" electronics, no amazon (only with parents but using pocket money)
- How often do they get things?
reset each month, not spending all at once
- How much money can they spend in total?
monthly: 20€ (9), 15€ (7)
- What's the highest amount they are allowed to spend on own decision?
monthly: 20€ (9), 15€ (7) but not for 1 item
- Who decides on price, what to buy, when, how often?
they have pocket money, still need to ask parents on what they can buy, can't spend all at once
- Do you trust your kids to handle money or would are prefer an alternative from them to "pay"?
yes, they have extra holiday money to spend completely free real money best - can use gift vouchers from birthdays etc

INTERVIEW

- Do you have girl(s) or boy(s)?
boy (3), girl (4), both easy to handle kids, both affable children
- At which age were/are they allowed to use any electronic devices?
already, but only kids tablet
- Which ones wouldn't you allow?
girl only tablet, because it is mobile, easy to take everywhere even on trips, display is big enough to see and interact wouldn't consider anything else for the next years (not needed, smartphone is too small)
- What do your kids usually ask for / want you to buy?
everything colorful or with typical style for kids (prints of tv figures, anime etc), toothpaste, groceries with prints (sausage from butcher, felt tip, everything they see on shelves passing by)
- What they get:
useful items, mostly for long-term use, often playmobil, add-on pieces, game piece, toys, sometimes sweets, sticker book, coloring book, beautiful socks
- Do your kids go out to buy stuff or do they order online and how often?
Never online since parents also don't like to buy stuff online
- What can't they buy?
food with plastic figures and toys included (e.g. yoghurt with toys), stuff with hidden sugars - unhealthy too sugary stuff especially when not clearly distinguishable if healthy or not → to teach kids which food is healthy and which one is not, learn healthy diet and recognize occasional treatments with sweets
- How often do they get things?
on average every 3-4 weeks
- How much money can they spend in total?
average 5-10€ with mum
on festivities more seldom 15€ if good reason for mum
sometimes pocket money from granny (5€) 4y old goes to kiosk to buy comics, magazine, ... but never to a proper shop / supermarket
- What's the highest amount they are allowed to spend on own decision?
~5€
- Who decides on price, what to buy, when, how often?
parents only
- Do you trust your kids to handle money or would are prefer an alternative from them to "pay"?
money handling is good, learning
even has a portmoneau and already "safes up" money